Pennant head stone with a tomb surmounted by an urn. Only the head stone remained by 1974.

Sacred to the Memory of GEORGE LEWIS
fourth Son of MORGAN LEWIS
of St. Pierre
in the county of Monmouth Esqr.
who was unfortunately drowned
in crossing the Severn
in a small boat on Sunday
the sixth of November 1774
Aged 16.

Matthew's New History of Bristol recorded this inscription but gave the father's name as George with the long epitaph below. It was on a tomb which had disappeared by 1974.

As some young Pine of aspect tall and fair
That promis'd to reward the Planter's care;
Pleas'd he beheld it answering his toil
Thrive and proclaim the goodness of the soil;
When all at once a whirlwind blasts his care.
Tears up his plant and scatters it in the air;
So far'd it with the youth we here deplore
O'erwhelm'd at once and drowned near the shore:
The crazy boat unable to sustain
Her swelling sail is buried in the main.
In vain for him his friends explore the deep
in vain with nets the treach'rous bottom sweep;
For six long months the sport of every wave
His floating body fought in vain a grave;
But toss'd from rock to rock from sand to sand
Till a kind Pilot tow'd his Corps to land.
Nor should for this his friends indulge despair
But with this consolation wipe the tear
That the same GOD is present everywhere;
And the straight gate which leads to endless bliss
Stands in the air the earth and great abyss.
Nor could a youth like this forsake his way
Had he set out from Lapland or Cathay.

The Annals of that Country will testify

whole North American Continent was involved in a French and Indian war.
His Rectitude of Conduct in his Government and Integrity in other Publick Employments
add a Lustre to his Character which was revered
while he lived and will be held in Estimation whilst his Name survives. His more private Virtues and the amiable social Qualities he posessed
were the Happiness of his Friends and Relations
Many of whom shared his Bounty.
All lament his loss. As his happy Dispositions for domestic Life were but known to his affectionate Wife and Daughters:
They have erected this Monument
to the Memory of his Conjugal and Parental Love which they will ever cherish and revere with that Piety and Tenderness he so greatly merited.

Rbt Dinwiddie b. 1693 at Germiston nr Glasgow was s. of Rbt Dinwiddie. In 1738 he was made Surveyor-General for the southern part of America. He uncovered frauds in Barbados & made himself unpopular. In 1751 he was appointed Lt Governor of Virginia & provoked a quarrel with the House of Burgesses over payment of quit rents. He lost when he took his case to the Board of Trade. He was very interested in the Ohio

Region & worked to obtain the co-operation of the Indians. He opposed the French claim to the area & sent several detachments including one led by Geo. Washington to prevent this happening. His constant exertions told on his health. He left Virginia in 1758 & died at Clifton in 1770. His career as colonial administrator was marked by vision strength attention to detail & untiring energy. As the man who precipitated the struggle which brought about the downfall of New France he is a figure of first importance in the early history of the American continent.

He m. Rebecca Auchinleck (d. 1793) & had two dau Rebecca m. Archibald Hamilton 1771 no issue and Eliz. d. unmarried in 1773. There is a fine portrait of the dau. by Allan Ramsay in the Lady Lever Art Gallery Port Sunlight and another of their father by the same artist in the National Portrait Gallery London. Here continue to waste
His Soul having taken her Flight to Heaven
the small Remains of JOHN POTT Jun.
who died of a Consumption
the 5th of January 1779 aged 26.
Young in Years old in Virtue;
a Son second to none;
a Brother loving and beloved;
a Friend esteemed by all;
in Religion serene and sincere;
in Business steady;
in Conversation polite:
Candour and Justice
Humanity Benevolence and Generosity
possessed his Soul.
He lived with the Praises
died with the Prayers of all those whose Prayers or Praises
are of any Value;
and fell a Victim to honourable Industry.
This is not the vain Eulogium of fond Affection
but the heart-felt Testimony of a Father;
who till this melancholy Period
had enjoyed in this Son all that Happiness which Parental Love answered
by filial Gratitude can administer.
A like but longer Happiness
he wishes to every Father:
Superior Merit is rarely exemplified in any Son.

A Woman,
uniformly and without Ostentation, actuated by the great Principles of Virtue and Religion, moderate in her Desires and Enjoyments; by Prudence and a well disposed Mind, secured from Temptation or Surprize.
Tenderness and Benevolence were seen in her pleasing Countenance, an amiable Simplicity of Manners in her deportment,
and both shewed the constant influence of Innocence.
Quick to discover and acknowledge Merit,
yet indulgent to the Failings of Humanity;
she contemplated with Delight the Excellencies
of her Friends, and saw with Candour
their Defects.
Insensible of her own Worth, she viewed with partial Eyes
her Husband,
and gave him the warm and active Affection
of a Heart which knew no Joy or Interest unconnected with His.

Tablet in the Church

To the memory of MISS SUSAN PROBY Daughter of the Rev. Dr. Proby Dean of Litchfield Whose body is interred in this Church-yard;
She died August 6 1804 in the 28th year of her age.
In youth's gay hour in beauty's loveliest bloom
What friend shall smoothe the passage to the tomb!
Pure faith firm trust in him who died to save
And humble hope that looks beyond the grave.
These were the teachers Susan thus upheld
Nor fear unnerv'd thy mind nor anguish quell'd
Ye fair and young the bright example view
Her sufferings and her patience speak to you:
Thro' four long years of pain of lingering death
In various climes she drew uncertain breath:
At length her meek submission fully tried
She saw her native shore bless'd God and died.

Proud of allegiance to his gentle sway
who taught her heart the transport to obey;

Whose mind with hers in blissful tenour run
Until Fidelity new stamp'd them one.
No longer thou has guardian angel near who now shall watch beside his couch of care ?
who with sweet cheerfulness and ease Display so well the happy art to please ?
or who in this world's prosprous robes array'd
To friendless Merit lend so prompt an aid ?
Fairwell dear Friend ! thrice hallow'd be the Shrine
That raised to consecrate a worth like thine.

Dear is the spot where Christians sleep and sweet the strain which Angels pour oh why should we in anguish weep
they are not lost but gone before.

On Jordon's banks whence er we come
and hear the swelling waters roar
Jesus conveys us safely home
To Saints not lost but gone before.

Caroline Eliz. Sarah Norton wrote a poem "Not lost but gone before." (Ed)

Dr Carrick wrote a paper on the declining popularity of the Hotwell Spring with suggestions for its revival this was addressed to the Soc. of Merchant Venturers in 1816. Dr Carrick realized that the difficult & dangerous descent from Clifton to the Well might have been part of the cause of the Well's decline so he suggested that a carriage road should be constructed from the Hotwell Ho. to the Downs - the present Bridge Valley Road built in 1822.
Dr Carrick was among those who suggested the foundation of the Bristol College which was opened in 1831 in a large house in Park St. (since demolished). This college existed until 1841 when it closed due to competition from "Bishop's College" opened in 1840. (1)

May 23 1829 - Thurs. last at Edgeworth's Town after a short but severe illness Wm Edgeworth Esq. C.E. s. of the late celebrated Richard Lovell Edgeworth Esq... (Eulogy follows)... "Mr Edgeworth was employed by the General Post Office as an engineer; & among his projects is that new line of road from Belfast to Antrim skirting the base of Cave-Hill which when finished will be one of the most useful as well as the most beautiful in this country" - Belfast Commercial Chronicle
HARE HATCH In the 18th century Richard Edgeworth and his family came to dwell at Hare Hatch. He made a runaway match with a girl of 15 whom he married at Gretna Green (it was his only unhappy marriage. He had four wives altogether and 19 children.) Edgeworth brought his eldest son and daughter Maria from Oxford when he moved to Hare Hatch. Here they found themselves neighbours of Thomas Day the author of Sandford and Merton. Day had the odd notion of bringing up two foundling girls one of whom he intended to make his wife when old enough but it was Edgeworth who married the prettiest. Maria's gift as a story teller was early recognised by her father and he encouraged her to write not only novels but serious books on education. (11)
